

Auto Air Conditioning Services Experts

Dandy Auto has been repairing air-conditioning systems since the business started 20 years ago.

Air conditioning systems have changed dramatically over the years as environmental issues have forced the auto makers to re-design their vehicles. We service air conditioned vehicles from the 1960s to the present utilizing the latest recharging and recycling equipment. We specialize in the difficult to repair problems.

Every Dandy Auto Air Conditioning Service includes the following performed by an ASE Certified Technician:

- Visual inspection of the compressor belt and hoses.
- Test of the refrigerant level.
- Evaluation of air duct temperature and compressor operating pressure.
- If necessary evacuate the old refrigerant and recharge with new refrigerant to factory specifications.
- Run vehicle to operating temperature testing pressures and duct temperatures.
- Final test for leaks with our modern electronic refrigerant tester.
